Father Chuck's Challenge – Thank you for any contribution you made for Father Chuck's Challenge in our second collection last weekend. We appreciate also your special prayers. If you missed last week's second collection, you can mail the white envelope found in the pamphlet directly to "Father Chuck's Challenge". Every dollar and every prayer counts. Copies of the pamphlet may be found in the back of the church.

"Whatever you do for the least of My brothers, you do unto Me." (Mt. 25:40)

SECOND COLLECTION – The weekend of May 5 / 6, 2018 is for Catholic Home Missions. This Appeal primarily supports home mission diocese – that is – those dioceses in the United States that are unable to offer their people the basic pastoral ministries of word, worship, and service without outside help. It may also give grants to other diocese in the United States for particular projects and to organizations and religious communities engaged in mission work. Please be as generous as possible.

GRADUATION AWARD DONATIONS

A special word of thanks to the many generous parishioners and other friends of Our Lady of Calvary School who have endowed scholarships and awards for our school graduation classes over the years. Your financial support has often made a difference in the ability of our students to continue their Catholic education. If anyone would like to make a donation in memory of a loved one or a positive Christian ideal for the purpose of establishing a graduation scholarship or award, please call the school office at 215-637-1648. Your consideration of this request is greatly appreciated.

Blessed Among Us

St. Robert of Molesme – Abbott of Citeaux (ca. 1024-1111) St. Robert was born to a noble family in Champagne. After entering the Benedictines at the age of fifteen, he eventually became abbot of St. Michel-de-Tennere. While there his reputation as a wise spiritual counselor reached a group of hermits in nearby Molesme. At first he rebuffed their request that he join them. But eventually they returned, armed with a papal decree. So Robert joined them in the forest. Before long he had organized them into a formal, and indeed, prosperous community. Some of the members of the community complained that they were losing touch with the original spirit of the Benedictine Rule. In particular, they regretted the fact that physical labor by the monks had largely been replaced by the work of serfs.

Dissension within the monastery grew. Finally, Robert received papal permission to depart Molesme with twenty other monks. They settled on a piece of desolate land in Citreaux, where they made the foundation of a new monastery – the birthplace of the Cistercian Order. Although Robert, along with his companions St. Alberic and St. Stephen Harding, is counted as one of the cofounders of the Cistercians, his time at Citeaux was limited. The monks at Molesme were desperate for the return of their holy abbot. Once again they were able to back up their desires with a papal documents. So Robert returned.

He died on April 17, 11, and was canonized in 1222.

“He wanted to give God everything, and that is the purpose of our Order, complete immolation of the body, mind, and will to God, without compromise.”

-Thomas Merton on St. Robert of Molesme

SPIRITUAL REFLECTIONS

Walk the Talk

As Christians, we know we are called to love one another. This is something Jesus mentions throughout the Gospels. Too often, however, we consider it sufficient to merely love with our words, to love in an abstract and general way, or “in speech” only. This exhortation to love as Christ has loved us calls out our inadvertent shifts from the self-sacrificing love that demands something of us to an easy love that remains superficial and secure. We are to love not just in theory but in practice, “indeed and truth”. Think of it as a Christian variation on the old line about it being one thing to “talk the talk” and another thing to “walk the walk”.

As we see in the Acts of the Apostles, St. Paul comes to learn this the hard way. When he arrives in Jerusalem and seeks out the disciples of Jesus, nobody believes him at first. He claims to be a Christian, he says as much with his words, but his legacy of persecuting Christians – in previous actions – suggest something else to his hearers, which is why they were afraid of him. Just as St. Paul demonstrated contempt with his earlier actions, so now he must earn the trust of the Jerusalem Christians with actions demonstrating love. It is not enough to “talk the talk” of discipleship, but we must “walk the walk” as the earlier followers of Christ did before us.

Daniel P. Hora, OFM, is a Franciscan friar, the author of several books, and assistant professor of systematic theology at the Catholic Theological Union (Chicago).
