Annual Mission Co-op Appeal – Rev. Luis Carlos DeLeon will be speaking at all masses the weekend of August 4 / 5, 2018 describing the work of and requesting support for his society, the Missionary Fraternity of Mary of Guatemala. He has been invited to our parish by the mission office of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia.

Begun in 1981 as a youth ministry with seven young men, the Fraternity was subsequently established as a Society for Apostolic Life in 1990. Since then it has grown to over 150 ordained priests serving 64 missions in 31 dioceses in 11 countries. Currently there are approximately 100 seminarians in various stages of formation at the seminary in Guatemala.

Fraternity mission sites are established where there are no clergy available to fulfill pastoral needs, in difficult economic areas, and among the poor and marginalized. Fraternity priests journey to develop their spiritual lives and strengthen their Catholic faith to help them positively impact the community or village in which they live.

BLESSED AMONG US

Ruth Pfau – Medical Missionary (1929-2017). Ruth Pfau was born in Leipzig in 1929. After surviving Allied bombing during the war, she escaped East Germany to study medicine in Mainz. Inspired by the example of a concentration camp survivor who had devoted her life to promoting forgiveness, she became a Catholic and then, in 1957, joined the Society of Daughters of the Heart of Mary, a missionary order. “When you receive such a calling,” she observed, “you cannot turn it down, for it is not you who has made the choice. God has chosen you for himself.”

In 1960, while passing through Pakistan on her way to India, she visited a leper colony in Karachi. She was struck by the sight of a young man who “crawled on hands and feet into this dispensary, acting as if this was quite normal.” At once she was inspired to make a key decision – to remain in Pakistan and to minister to those suffering from leprosy.

Over the next thirty-five years, through a network of centers, she treated over 50,000 patients. When, in 1996, the World Health Organization declared that leprosy in Pakistan was under control, she moved on to other disabilities, including victims of land mines from neighboring Afghanistan. “Not all of us can prevent a war,” she said, “but most of us can help ease sufferings – of the body and the soul.”

Upon her death on August 10, 2017, she was hailed in Pakistan as a national hero and granted a state funeral.

“Leading a life committed to service does protect the soul from wounds. These are the workings of God.”

-Ruth Pfau

SPIRITUAL REFLECTIONS

Enough Is More than Enough

No good deed goes unpunished. That’s certainly how it seems in today’s first reading, as the Israelites grumble against Moses for leading them out of the land of their captivity. They would rather be captive with bellies full than free and hungry, or so they say from their place of desperation. Unfortunately, that makes perfect sense to me. So often I whine and grumble to God, saying I want to live differently, more fully. But the truth is I really prefer the comfort of my own captivity to the discomfort that comes with the risk of stepping into real transformation.

God does not let the whining go unanswered – the Israelite’ or ours. He sends them manna from heaven, a “daily portion,” just enough. It required a daily act of faith, trusting that God would provide again and again. And God did. In similar fashion, when we pray the Our Father, we say, “Give us this day our daily bread.” We don’t ask for bread in abundance; we ask for just enough. And Jesus comes to us in the form of bread so powerful that even a single crumb would satisfy.

God’s way requires a paradigm shift. We do not need to stockpile manna in the pantry alongside the canned soup and boxed pasta. We need only enough for one day, this day. All we have to do is ask and receive our daily bread, Jesus himself, which is more than we can ever imagine, more than enough.
