Blessing of Graduates

Eternal God, in your will we find our purpose, and in your wisdom we find our joy.

Bless these graduates who have completed a course of study and now begin a new part of their lives.

Let them not be troubled about yesterday, nor anxious about tomorrow, but let them live fully this day which you have made.

Let them use the gifts they have received in their studies that they may become a source of inspiration and blessing for the world.

And when each day is ended, give them delight in knowing that the good work you have begun in them shall come to completion in you.

We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen
Diana Macalintal, adapted from The Work of Your Hands.

Blessed Among Us

Blessed Malgorzata Szewczyk – Founder, Seraphic Sisters (1828-1905) Lucja Szewczyk was born to Polish parents in what was then Ukraine. Orphaned as a young girl, she was raised by an older half sister. Though she felt an early call to religious life, the atmosphere of Anti-Catholic repression, under tsarist occupation, made this impossible. Instead, she became a Third Order Franciscan. In 1870, along with a companion, she undertook a long and difficult pilgrimage to the Holy Land, where she remained for three years. Moved to find herself in the land where Jesus had lived and suffered, she made a vow to dedicate herself to God’s service, and she began while still there to care for other sick and elderly pilgrims. Eventually she returned to Poland, settling in Warsaw, where she worked in an orphanage.

With the encouragement of her confessor, to whom she confided her desire to pursue religious life, she took private religious vows. Immediately she welcomed two old women to share her apartment. Before long, with other helpers, she rented another apartment, and then a house with a garden, where they could provide hospitality to the sick and elderly. So as not to attract attention, they wore secular clothes. But eventually, in 1881, they founded a new order, the Seraphic Sisters, with Lucja – now Mother Malgorzata – as Superior. She occupied this post until ill health forced her retirement in 1904. She died the following year on June 5, 1905.

She was beatified in 2013.

“For the glory of God and the good of suffering humanity.”

-Blessed Malgorzata Szewczyk

SPIRITUAL REFLECTIONS

A Liberating Reality

Christ instituted [the Eucharist] at the time of the Passover in order to teach us by every possible means both that he himself had been the lawgiver of the Old Testament, and also that the whole of the Old Testament had been a foreshadowing of these mysteries. He was replacing the type by the reality...

If the type was able to free a people from bondage, much more would the reality liberate the world, and Christ’s death bring down blessing upon our race...

Take, eat, he said, this is my body which is broken for many.

These words might well have alarmed them; if they did not, it was because Christ had already told them many marvelous things about this sacrament. In fact, they had been so well prepared that there was no need for him to say any more. But he told them that the reason he was going to suffer was to take away our sins. He spoke of the blood for the new covenant, that is, of the promise, the new law. He had promised long before that the new covenant had been ratified by his blood. As the old covenant had been ratified by the blood of sheep and calves, so the new covenant was to be ratified by the blood of the Lord. Thus, by speaking of this covenant and by reminding them that the old covenant had also been inaugurated by the shedding of blood, he made known to them that he was soon to die. And he told them once again the reason for his death in the words, This is my blood, which is poured out for all for the forgiveness of sins, and Do this in memory of me.

John Chrysostom (ca.347-407) was one of the early Church Fathers. As a priest he gained a reputation for his eloquent preaching on Sacred Scripture – “Chrysostom” means “golden-mouth.” He was declared a Doctor of the Church in 1568.
