SPIRITUAL REFLECTIONS

St. Mary Magdalene de’Pazzi - Mystic (1566-1607) St. Mary Magdalene, born to one of the wealthiest families in Florence, entered the Carmelite convent at sixteen. Two years later she fell desperately ill. As she was carried into the chapel, she experienced a sense of deep ecstasy, which she described as union with the Holy Trinity. After this, she said that “Jesus, caressing me gently like a newly-wed, united me to him and hid me in his side, where I tasted sweet repose. The Lord then seemed to take away from me my will and all my desires, so that I can no longer wish or desire anything except what he wills.”

Over time Mary received many such mystical experiences, some ecstatic and others accompanied by deep suffering. She witnessed the passion of Christ, exchanged hearts with Jesus, received the stigmata (the marks of Christ’s passion), and felt his crown of thorns. Along with such experiences of intimacy with Christ, she also endured years of desolation and despair – at times so great that she was tempted by thoughts of suicide. While subsisting (except on Sundays) on nothing but bread and water, she constantly felt the assault of temptations to gluttony and impurity.

In the end, her sufferings only united her more deeply to Christ.” God does not germinate in sad souls,” she said. “He wants a heart that is free and happy.” She died on May 25, 1607.

“Those who call to mind the sufferings of Christ and who offer up their own to God through His passion find their pains sweet and pleasant.”

-St. Mary Magdalene de’Pazzi

The Living Link

The descent of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost traditionally marks the birth of the Church. But it’s hardly the first time the Spirit shows up.

In the book of Genesis, the Spirit (ru’ah) hovers over the waters at the moment of creation. (Gen 1:2). The psalms sing of God’s Spirit renewing the face of the earth. (Ps 104:30). Jesus’ whole life is carried along by the Spirit. From the moment of his conception (“The Holy Spirit will come upon you,” Luke 1:35) to his first words as a teacher (“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me,” Luke 4:18) to his final promise (“Receive the Holy Spirit,” John 20:22) – the Spirit serves not only as the bond of love between the Son and the Father but also as the living link between Christ and his people.

The Holy Spirit is nothing other than God alive and active in the world. If Jesus is how God burst forth into human history, then the Spirit is how God continues to burn in the human heart. The Spirit is God’s love for each one of us. It is God’s loving presence within me.

The beauty of God’s gift is that it comes to us as we are. When the apostles shared the gift of the Spirit, the people who listened did not need to learn a new language. Instead they confessed, “we heard them speaking in our own tongues the mighty acts of God” (Acts 2:11). The one spirit does not obliterate the amazing diversity of the Body of Christ, but rather makes possible the marvelous contribution of each and every part to the life of the whole.
